The Siemon Company Awards Scholarships to College-Bound Students

June 6, 2017. Watertown, CT - The Siemon Company, a leading manufacturer of high performance low voltage infrastructure solutions headquartered in Watertown, recently awarded 14 high school graduates with scholarships that they will apply towards their college education. For more than a quarter of a century, Siemon has been awarding these scholarships to help students from the local area to pursue their academic goals. The Siemon Company's scholarship program recognizes outstanding students who have demonstrated superior academic achievement, leadership in extracurricular activities, and synergy among vocational aspiration, academic success and financial resources.

The Siemon Company Scholarships

This year, Siemon awarded three Siemon Company Scholarships to local high school graduates. The Carl M. Siemon Science Scholarship was awarded to Ashley Gillette, who will be attending Harvard and to Rachel Martineau who will be attending UCONN Storrs. Jennifer Jeon, who will be attending Brown University, was the recipient of The Siemon Company Scholarship.

Arthur F. Hinkleman Scholarships

The Siemon Company also named 11 high school graduates as winners of the 2017 Arthur F. Hinkleman Scholarships. These scholarships are awarded to the children of Siemon Company employees. Those being honored with these scholarships include: Linden Duval, Amanda Gendron, Andrew Below, Cameron Newsted, Kelly Hinterneder, Chris Hinterneder, Blenim Pocesta, John Page, Robert Moss, Selena Soto, Brooke Valentukonis.

The Siemon Company wishes to extend to these students its congratulations and best wishes for continued academic success.
