

THE SIEMON COMPANY 2 RMS S110 CABLE MANAGER

STEP 1: Mount the wire manager with legs onto a suitable surface with the necessary screws and hardware. Use an alternating arrangement of S110 wiring bases (P/N S110AW2-100) and cable managers so that the space between the legs forms a vertical trough behind the bases and cable managers for horizontal or backbone cables going to the wiring bases.	STEP 2: Once mounted, the wire manager may be removed from the legs by squeezing inward near the base of the outer arms on both sides to defeat the latches (see arrows) and lifting away from the mounting surface.	STEP 3: Once removed, cables may be routed in the space between the legs.	STEP 4: The wire manager may be snapped back into position by aligning the receptacles with the latches on the legs and pressing toward the mounting surface. For additional security, screws are provided to attach the wire manager to the legs (see arrows).	STEP 5: Once the wire manager and connecting blocks are mounted and connected, patch cords and cross-connect jumpers may be routed through the cable managers. Cable retainers are beveled to protect cords and jumpers from damage and to provide optimum retention and accessibility. For a clean appearance, align and snap the S110 cover over the front of the cable manager.
